

St. James's, January 14th 1766.

Sir,

Inclosed You receive His Majesty's Speech to the Two Houses of Parliament; by which You will perceive, that all the Papers, that any way relate to the late Disturbances in America, are ordered to be laid before Parliament; and that His Majesty, graciously tempering His Care for the Honor of His Government with the tenderest Concern for the Welfare & Happiness of all His People, has referred it to the Wisdom of Parliament to determine upon such Regulations, as may preserve the Authority of the British Government, redound to the real Interest of the several Parts of His Dominions, and insure the common Happiness and Prosperity of the whole British Empire.

I am, with great Truth and Regard,

Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant.

J. S. Conway

B. S. I have received, and laid before the King, your Letter of the 9th Dec^r—
